FOREWORD

The Educational and Professional Programme for the training of higher education students at the first (bachelor's) level of higher education in specialty C4 "Psychology", within the field of knowledge C "Social Sciences, Journalism and Information", has been developed in accordance with the Laws of Ukraine "On Education" and "On Higher Education".

The Educational and Professional Programme "Psychology" was developed by the working group of the Department of Pedagogy, Psychology, Primary, Pre-School Education and Management of Educational Institutions on the basis of the Standard of Higher Education of Ukraine for the first (bachelor's) level in specialty 053 "Psychology", approved by Order of the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine No. 565 of 24 April 2019. In developing the Programme, the amendments to the Higher Education Standard introduced by the Orders of the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine "On Amendments to Certain Standards of Higher Education" No. 593 of 28 May 2021, No. 1583 of 29 December 2023, and No. 842 of 13 June 2024 were taken into account. In addition, the Programme was designed with due regard to the provisions of the Law of Ukraine "On Education" (2017), the New Ukrainian School Concept, professional standards in the field of psychological practice, current trends in the development of psychological science, labour market needs, and stakeholder proposals.

The Programme is aimed at training highly qualified psychologists capable of working effectively in conditions of social change, crisis situations and a multicultural environment, applying modern evidence-based approaches and methods of professional practice.

The Educational and Professional Programme regulates the number of ECTS credits required for obtaining the Bachelor's degree, the list of general and professional competences of graduates, the normative content of higher education students' training expressed in terms of learning outcomes, the forms of final certification of students, as well as the requirements for the functioning of the internal quality assurance system in higher education. The Programme also includes practical training, elements of academic mobility, and opportunities for shaping students' individual educational trajectories.

The Educational and Professional Programme "Psychology" was considered and approved by the Academic Council of Ferenc Rakoczi II Transcarpathian Hungarian University, taking into account current amendments to the regulatory framework and contemporary requirements for the training of specialists in the field of psychology.

Orientation of the Educational Programme	The Educational and Professional Programme is aimed at training highly qualified professionals in the field of psychology who possess sound knowledge and practical skills and are able to perform professional tasks effectively in the field of contemporary psychology, including in educational settings. A distinctive feature of the Programme is its orientation towards training practitioners capable of providing

	psychological assistance and promoting the social integration of individuals who need such support, in response to the real needs of contemporary society. The Programme promotes readiness for continuous professional development and independent deepening of professional competences. It ensures a holistic approach to professional activity in the field of education and science by combining theoretical training with practical experience.
Main Focus of the Educational Programme and Specialization	The Educational Programme is aimed at training competitive specialists in psychology who are capable of working in complex social, crisis and post-crisis conditions, taking into account contemporary societal challenges. The training is also oriented towards the needs of the multicultural Transcarpathian region, with its high proportion of internally displaced persons, which has led to a growing demand for psychological support for the population. The focus of the Programme provides for the development of competences in higher education students that are necessary for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • providing psychological assistance in difficult life circumstances, emergency situations and post-traumatic conditions; • carrying out psychodiagnostic assessment, counselling, psychocorrection and psychorehabilitation for individuals who have been exposed to psychotraumatic impact; • working with vulnerable groups of the population, including internally displaced persons, children and families in difficult life circumstances; • providing psychological support in inclusive and multicultural environments; • conducting psychological prevention and psychoeducational activities aimed at preserving and strengthening the mental health of the population; • applying modern methods of psychological assistance through the use of digital technologies and evidence-based approaches. The implementation of the Programme focus is ensured through a system of educational components, in particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a theoretical and methodological block – Introduction to the Specialty, General Psychology, Social Psychology, Developmental Psychology, Psychology of Personality – which forms a basic understanding of the psyche and personality development; • a research block – Fundamentals of Scientific Research, Mathematical and Statistical Methods in Psychology, Experimental Psychology – aimed at developing evidence-based analytical skills; • a practice-oriented and applied block – Psychodiagnostics, Psychological Counselling, Psychocorrection, Psychorehabilitation, Psychology of Crisis Situations, Mental Health, Psychological Support in Inclusive Education, Psychology of Conflicts and Mediation, Psychology of the Family – which ensures the development of skills for working with different client groups in social, crisis and inclusive contexts;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a professional-ethical and managerial block – Ethics of the Psychologist and Legal Aspects of Psychological Practice, Psychology of Management, Psychology of Decision-Making – which ensures readiness for responsible professional practice.
Specific Features of the Programme	The Educational and Professional Programme “Psychology” is implemented on the basis of student-centred and competence-based approaches, with an orientation towards practical training. The educational process provides for an optimal combination of classroom work, independent learning, practical training and professional practice placements. The Programme is aimed at training practitioner specialists in the fields of psychodiagnostic assessment, Psychological Counselling, Psychocorrection and psychological support for students. It develops readiness to apply an individualized approach to learners in order to reveal their potential, as well as to provide psychological support for persons with special educational needs in an inclusive educational environment. Practising psychologists are involved in the implementation of the Programme, which ensures the connection between theoretical training and current professional tasks. The combination of educational, research and practical components contributes to the formation of professional competence and the continuous professional growth of students. A specific feature of the Programme is the multilingual educational environment, with instruction in Ukrainian, Hungarian and English. This contributes to the preservation of the linguistic and cultural diversity of the region, complies with Ukrainian legislation, and supports integration into the European educational space. The uniqueness of the Programme is determined by its social mission, which responds to current challenges, in particular the consequences of martial law. The Transcarpathian region hosts a significant number of internally displaced persons who require not only psychological support but also assistance with social integration into a new environment. In this context, the Programme is oriented towards training psychologists capable of working effectively with internally displaced persons, providing psychological assistance, carrying out psychosocial support and post-traumatic support, and facilitating adaptation to new living conditions.

3. FORMS OF ATTESTATION OF STUDENTS AT THE FIRST (BACHELOR’S) LEVEL OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Form of attestation of higher education students	Attestation is carried out in the form of an attestation examination and the public defence of the qualification paper.
Requirements for the attestation examination	The attestation examination in the specialty verifies the achievement of the learning outcomes defined by the Higher Education Standard and the Educational Programme.
Requirements for the qualification paper	The qualification paper involves solving a complex specialized task or practical problem in the field of psychology, requiring the application of basic psychological theories and methods and characterized by complexity and uncertainty of conditions. The qualification paper must not contain academic plagiarism, falsification or fabrication. The qualification paper is published on the official website or in the repository of the higher education institution.
Requirements for public defence	In the course of the public defence, the candidate for the Bachelor’s degree must demonstrate the ability to present the content clearly and confidently, answer questions in a well-reasoned manner and engage in discussion. The student’s report must be accompanied by presentation materials. The decision of the examination board on awarding the Bachelor’s degree in Psychology and issuing the Bachelor’s diploma on the basis of the results of the final attestation of students is announced after the minutes of the meetings of the examination board have been drawn up in accordance with the established procedure.

The attestation of graduates is completed by the issuance of a document in the prescribed form confirming the award of the Bachelor’s degree with the qualification of Bachelor of Psychology.
